Filling one's head with self-serving beliefs opens the door to unscientific thinking. As Socrates surmised, it's the emptiness of the inquiring mind that drives us towards truth. And, even if one religion has hit on absolute truth, the assumption that one knows this truth will always spur conflict with other religions making the same claim

1. Ontological Naturalism 1.1 Making a Causal Difference. A central thought in ontological naturalism is that all spatiotemporal entities must be identical to or metaphysically constituted by physical [] entities. Many ontological naturalists thus adopt a physicalist attitude to mental, biological, social and other such "special" subject matters.

Pseudoscience - Wikipedia

Science in a broad sense existed before the modern era and in many historical civilizations. Modern science is distinct in its approach and successful in its results, so it now defines what science is in the strictest sense of the term. Science in its original sense was a word for a type of knowledge, rather than a specialized word for the pursuit of such knowledge.
