In a later implementation phase of the new VoS, users who have signed up for accounts will have additional editorial privileges allowing them to maintain/revise links that they have contributed. There will also be group accounts that enable classes, organizations, conferences, etc. to build subsets of VoS resources that will appear both on the regular VoS pages and on a special page set aside

Humanists Should Support the U.S. Citizenship Act of 2021

Humanists UK, known from 1967 until May 2017 as the British Humanist Association (BHA), is a charitable organisation which promotes secular humanism and aims to represent "people who seek to live good lives without religious or superstitious beliefs" in the United Kingdom by campaigning on issues relating to humanism, secularism, and human rights. It seeks to act as a representative body for

Humanists International

Secular humanism is a philosophy or life stance that embraces human reason, secular ethics, and philosophical naturalism while specifically rejecting religious dogma, supernaturalism, and superstition as the basis of morality and decision making.. Secular humanism posits that human beings are capable of being ethical and moral without religion or belief in a deity.

Understanding Humanism

He was constantly discovering new books and new fields. It is very hard for me to use the past tense in speaking about Lionel. " "Lionel Gossman was one of the great humanists and scholar-teachers of his generation," said François Rigolot, the Meredith Howland Professor of French Literature, Emeritus.

The New Religious Humanists

In historiography the phrase the Dark Ages (or Dark Age) is most commonly known in relation to the European Early Middle Ages (from about 476 C.E. to about 1000 C.E.).. This concept of a "Dark Age" was first created by Italian humanists and was originally intended as a sweeping criticism of the character of Vulgar Latin (Late Latin) literature. Later historians expanded the term to include not

Introducing Humanism: Non-religious

Approaches to Life

Bringing non-religious people together to develop their own views and an understanding of the world around them. Humanists are people who shape their own lives in the here and now, because we believe it's the only life we have. We make sense of the world through logic, reason, and evidence, and always seek to treat those around us with warmth

Dark Ages - New World Encyclopedia

So why should humanists care about the U.S. Citizenship Act of 2021? Let's take a look at the AHA's Ten Commitments, a framework that illustrates some of the central components humanists—and most people focused on “good”—can agree on. Several of these Commitments help explain why supporting this path to citizenship is an essential part of being a humanist.
